"MAKING THINGS BEAUTIFUL."

By Rev. D. H. MARTIN, D. D.

"He hath made everything beautiful in its time."—Eccl. 3-2.

Dumbarton Ave. M. E. Church, (Dumbarton Ave. between 1st St. and Wisconsin Ave.)

God makes everything beautiful in the physical world in its time. This fact has never been more splendidly impressed upon us than now. Not long ago the spring came to us with the sweet songs of the birds and the fragrance of the flowers. Then came the summer and smilingly carrying the burden of the growing world, she was equally attractive. Now we find ourselves midst the glories of the autumn days—the rich harvest, the hazy atmosphere, the brilliant skies and the exquisitely colored foliage all lit up with the golden light the sun makes this season, to many people the most beautiful of all the year. Nature has now arrayed herself in her most magnificent robes. Before long she will change her gorgeous attire of color for the white garment, and even the bleak and dreary winter will not come without indescribable beauties.

There is another world more wonderful and important than the physical world; it is the world of human life. In one world God makes beauty possible through natural laws; in the other it is attained by human agencies. Man is the greatest of all God's creations, and he is the determining influence to bring things to pass in the affairs of men. He is absolutely essential to make the Divine real in human life. We will have beautiful bodies when we properly care for them, beautiful intellects when we train them and beautiful souls when we save them. We will reach the beautiful conditions of individual experience when we unite with faith and prayer our best efforts to make our lives what we want them to be. Human society will become beautiful when we live blameless lives and use our influences to help others to do the same thing. The business world's time to become beautiful is when all men practice the Golden Rule. Our national life will become beautiful when all men appreciate the privilege and practice the duties of citizenship. The whole world will be beautiful when the Kingdom of God becomes supreme in men's hearts. It remains for men to determine when that time shall be. Our greatest work is to help God make the world of human life—BEAUTIFUL!

A SEARCHLIGHT ON Hughes and Wilson Strength

—IN—

New York--Illinois--Indiana--Ohio--New Jersey

If we can catch the voters in the glare of the searchlight as they are shifting from one political camp to another, and count them, we can tell which camp will be found to have the heaviest battalions next Tuesday. So we have shot a ray of light at five big "doubtful" States where the paths from camp to camp are crowded with marchers, coming and going, and have made a count of those caught by its momentary gleam.

The Editors of THE LITERARY DIGEST wrote to 50,000 "Digest" subscribers in the States of New York, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and New Jersey. They were asked to name the candidates they voted for in 1912 and for whom they would vote next Tuesday. More than 30,000 have responded.

In THE LITERARY DIGEST for November 4th the result of this canvass is shown. Several significant phases are apparent, and the article teems with interest.

There are many other articles of importance in this number, among which are:

You will find it on the table of the living-room in cultivated American homes throughout the length and breadth of our land. It is welcomed in these homes because it is clean, wholesome, and inspiring; because it prints nothing that parents would not want their children to read, and because of its high educative value. As a live record of current history it is without a rival and your boy or girl will find no better text-book for acquiring a knowledge of the great events that are taking place all over the world. Schools and colleges are everywhere recognizing this and THE LITERARY DIGEST is being regularly studied in class. Read this splendid magazine for yourself and you will see why.
